ABOUT THE SEMINAR

The prevention of crime is a multi-dimensional approach to reduce the occurrence of crime, deter criminal behaviors through enforcement of law. All the countries regardless of their development status focus on different methods to prevent and control crime. However, it is not only the government's role to prevent the crime, but it also involves non-governmental organisations, communities and individuals. It is crucial to investigate, analyse and evaluate the diverse factors that contributes to commission of the crime and strategies for crime prevention. The goal of this seminar is to raise awareness about the existing crime control strategies highlighted in the national and international framework, share experiences, and best practices and provide a means to create and implement new strategies.

OBJECTIVES OF THE SEMINAR

The national seminar on “Crime Prevention and Control” organised by the Centre for Criminology and Criminal Justice, Symbiosis Law School, Hyderabad aims to serve as a platform to foster communication and action among the scholars and practitioners from different parts of country . It will further provide opportunities to share innovative ideas and strategies for successful prevention of crimes of all sorts. The seminar attempts to delve deeper into embracing the different perspectives related to criminology, penology, victimology and law enforcement at a domestic and international level.

THEME OF THE SEMINAR: CRIME PREVENTION AND CONTROL

Crime prevention has become an increasingly important component in many national and international strategies to ensure public safety and security. It mostly comprises of the strategies and measures that seek to reduce factors contributing to crime and its harmful impact on individuals and societies.

The existing lacunae in international and domestic legislations to prevent and control crimes should be addressed. The effects of crimes are grave in nature and have an impact on the mankind as whole. However, many governments across the world has failed to include various crimes in their domestic legislations, making it hard to prosecute the persons responsible for it and serving criminal justice. Thus, failing to prevent these crimes both on national and international level.

This seminar thus, intends to delve on different approaches to prevent crime and understanding the role of different stakeholders in preventing and controlling the crime.
